
Right: an advected material column/layer illustration, not changing fixed basin depth. Actual flow must also satisfy boundary and transport constraints.